
Police have arrested a man for the fatal shooting of a woman at an apartment complex Wednesday.

Detectives with the Violent Crimes Unit have arrested Robert Earl Walters, 54, of Shreveport on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the death of April Fulghum, 32, of Greenwood.

Fulghum was shot to death before noon at the Lexington Place Apartments in the 100 block of Barrington Drive.

When police arrived, Fulgham was found inside the offices of the complex with multiple gunshot wounds. She was transported to LSU Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. Two others in the office at the time of the shooting were unharmed.

Bossier City Police detectives believe Walters, who was fired just hours earlier from his job as maintenance worker with the company that manages the complex, walked into the office and shot Fulghum before fleeing the scene in a pickup truck.

Walters turned himself over to Shreveport police at the Shreveport Police Department Training Academy on Greenwood Road about two hours after the shooting where he was taken into custody and booked into the Shreveport City Jail as a fugitive from Bossier City.

Bossier City police took Walter into custody early Wednesday evening after obtaining a warrant for his arrest charging him with second degree murder and subsequently booked him into the Bossier City Jail.

His bond has been set at $750,000.
